Last weekend, Ahmed's family went on an adventure. On Friday morning, they drove to the mountains with their tent. Ahmed and his sister Noor hiked with their father to a waterfall, while their mother took photos of the flowers. The water was cold and clean. In the evening, the family cooked rice on a small fire and told stories. Noor saw a fox near the rocks, but it ran away quickly. At night, they counted the stars until they were sleepy. On Saturday morning, they packed everything carefully and took their rubbish home. Ahmed wants to go again next month.
